Bridgewater State University (MA)

Large public regional comprehensive institution (9550 students in Fall 2023; 8172 undergraduates, 1378 graduate)

Executive Vice President and Provost (07/21-Present)

Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs (01/18-06/21, Interim 08/16-12/17)

I serve as the Chief Academic Officer and second-ranking executive officer at the university. I provide leadership and oversight for the Division of Academic Affairs. This includes agenda-setting, advancing strategic planning, implementing strategic and budgetary priorities, and working with various constituencies to support student success. During my tenure as provost, I have prioritized innovation (including new academic programs), the value of a liberal arts education, interdisciplinarity, DEIB (diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging), accessibility, career-readiness, high-impact educational practices, global engagement, and system improvements all within a shared governance and unionized environment that supports excellence in teaching, scholarship, and creative work.

I work in close partnership with the president on important issues facing the university. I helped to organize and now lead the implementation of recommendations from the Special University Task Force on Racial Justice and serve as chair of Leadership Council, an institutional body comprised of over 100 leaders at the level of director and above. During the global pandemic, I chaired the Safe Return/Together Again Task Force. Part of my executive responsibility includes facilitating communication with Trustees, the Cabinet, and the larger university community.

I contribute leadership to all major institutional initiatives, including development efforts, external and legislative relations, campus innovation, and talent management. I am also the publisher of Action: Racial Justice and Equity at BSU, a major university publication focused on diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives and activities.

Division of Academic Affairs (FY24):

- $85 Million Total Divisional Budget ($28 Million Operating Budget)
 - $227 Million Total University Budget
- 6 Colleges, 33 Academic Departments, School of Social Work, Maxwell Library, Institute for Global Engagement, Center for Transformative Learning, Academic Achievement Center. Oversee a number of other units that support the academic mission.
- Faculty/Librarians: 331 Full-Time, 475 Part-Time, 10 Librarians
- 21 Academic Administrators
- 193 Professional and Administrative Staff

Major Highlights:

- Led divisional strategic planning process, complete with mission, vision, and value statements.
- Guided successful interim regional (NECHE) accreditation review (2017-2018) and 10-year comprehensive evaluation (2022-2023).
- Advanced brand-new degree programs based on market demand:
 - B.S. in Photonics and Optical Engineering
 - B.A. Childhood Studies (interdisciplinary)
 - B.S. in Cybersecurity and Digital Forensics
 - B.A. in Individualized Studies (in process)
 - M.S. in Public Relations (fully online)
 - M.S. in Mathematics
 - M.S. in Cybersecurity and Justice (in process)
 - Over 60 academic programs revitalized since 2016
- Developed and implemented Academic Innovation Initiative, an internal grant competition designed to catalyze, enable, and sustain innovation in teaching and learning, including the development of new academic programs.
- Serve as a partner to the president on institutional advancement. Collaborated to secure the largest ever gift to a Massachusetts State University ($8 million). Helped to obtain additional gifts totaling $4.5 million; established endowed professorship in Civics Education and endowed chair in Free Speech and Expression. Supported effort that secured $3.8 million in state and federal funding to establish state-of-the-art cybersecurity range and security operations center.

- Deepened partnership with Office of Alumni and Development (identified key priorities for the division, worked closely with Alumni Relations, facilitated divisional participation in Giving Day).
- Increased external funding from $1.1 million in FY16 to $5.2 million in FY23 ($11.4 million requested).
- Part of team that secured $32 million state grant to renovate College of Education and Health Sciences.
- Established Center for Entrepreneurship and Small Business in the College of Business.
- Established CC2BSU Program (Community College to Bridgewater State University) to enhance transfer student experience from area community colleges.
- Established Ombuds Office to serve faculty and librarians.
- Organized effort to be included in inaugural cohort of institutions participating in Transforming the Foundational Postsecondary Experience led by the Gardner Institute.
- Deepened relationships with regional public and private higher educational institutions to build academic pathways – with particular focus on low income, first generation, and students from systemically minoritized groups – and to facilitate collaboration in areas of mutual benefit.
- Worked with university leadership to develop and enhance relationships with business, legislative, and community leaders.
- Focused recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty: founding member of New England Board of Higher Education’s (NEBHE) North Star Collective and North Star Fellowship for BIPOC faculty; member of Women of Color in the Academy Consortium (Northeastern University), and recipient of National Science Foundation grant in support of diversifying STEM faculty.
- Established Provost’s Conversation Series and Provost’s Dialogue Series.
- Invested more than $3 million in past 7 years to support faculty and librarian research and scholarship as well as leadership opportunities.
- Reinvigorated Office of Teaching and Learning, which provides offerings tied to key issues such as equity-minded pedagogy, changing student needs, and artificial intelligence.
- Cultivated a highly collegial and dedicated group of academic leaders and institutional partners at the university.
- Emphasized transparency and fairness throughout the division, and across the university.

Organizational Restructuring in Support of Strategic Priorities:

- Established Office of the Provost to organize critical divisional functions.
- Established Center for Transformative Learning, a hub for high-impact practices. Created position of Assistant Provost to oversee center. University received 2019 Award for Undergraduate Research Accomplishments (AURA) by the Council on Undergraduate Research (CUR). Recognized as a top Fulbright-producing institution in 2019.
- Reimagined Institute for Global Engagement. Created position of Assistant Provost to oversee institute.
- Restructured Institute for Cape Verdean Studies.
- Created new position of Dean of Undergraduate Studies to support the Academic Achievement Center and related units.
- Created new position of Dean of the Clement C. Maxwell Library to elevate awareness of this critical resource within the university and in the surrounding community.
- Oversaw creation of the College of Continuing Studies and development of the College of Graduate Studies. Significant expansion in certificate, non-degree, degree completion, online, off-campus, weekend, and early college/dual enrollment offerings. Created Senior College to support lifelong learning for mature adults.
- Elevated and invested in health sciences. College of Education and Allied Studies renamed as College of Education and Health Sciences.
- Established an Office of the Ombudsperson to offer an informal channel for addressing a variety of workplace concerns.

Additional Accomplishments:

- Guided faculty/librarian reappointment, tenure, promotion, and post-tenure review processes.
- Created new academic program development process aligned with requirements of the Massachusetts Department of Higher Education.
- Created fully electronic and transparent “marketplace” of divisional opportunities for faculty and librarians.
- Invested in a number of new faculty and librarian led initiatives (e.g., Interdisciplinary Studies, Family Advocates for Faculty and Librarians, Equity-Minded Pedagogy, Community Engaged Teaching and Scholarship, Global Religious Studies, Social Justice Fellows).
- Expanded resources in support of the BSU Center for the Advancement of Research and Scholarship.
- Brought intentionality and focus to diversifying faculty, librarians, and staff in the division in collaboration with Division of Human Resources/Talent Management and Division of Student Success/Diversity.

- Established positive and productive working relationships with the Faculty/Librarian Union.

Leadership Roles:

- President's Cabinet
- President's Institutional Agenda Steering Committee
- Chair, Leadership Council (featuring academic and administrative leaders at director level and above)
- Co-Chair, University Strategic Enrollment Management Group (2016-2022)
- Chair, Covid-19 Safe Return/Together Again Task Force
- Member, Covid-19 Planning and Response Team
- Member, University Crisis Management Team

- Ex-Officio Member of all BSU Board of Trustees Subcommittees
- Chair, Provost's Council
- Past Chair, Chief Academic Officer Group, Massachusetts State Universities
- Past Member, Employment Relations Committee, Massachusetts State Universities

03/16-08/16

Bridgewater State University
Special Advisor to the President for University Priorities and Global Engagement

As a member of the president's cabinet, I provided leadership on a variety of institutional strategic priorities. I worked collaboratively with all members of the cabinet, as well as with deans, faculty leaders, staff, and students to help plan and successfully advance this work.

Major highlights:

- Working with cabinet, assessed, and enhanced institutional capacity to advance strategic goals and coordinated the implementation of cross-divisional strategic priorities.
- Served as BSU's Senior International Officer (SIO) and provided leadership to the Center (now Institute) for Global Engagement. Organized and led university participation in the American Council on Education's (ACE) Internationalization Lab.
- Led effort to secure the Mandela Washington Fellowship, the flagship program of President Barack Obama's Young African Leadership Initiative (YALI) at BSU. Served as initial Project Director for the program, which recently completed its seventh cycle and has been approved for an eighth.

- Led the Martin Richard Institute for Social Justice. Worked closely with the Advisory Board and with internal and external constituencies to contribute to the development of the Institute.
- Served as institutional liaison to a number of external associations and organizations (e.g., AASCU, AAC&U, ACE, Lumina Foundation, etc.).

Leadership Roles:

- President's Cabinet
- President's Strategic Planning and Communication Committee
- President's Representative to Enrollment Management Core Team

- Strategic Enrollment Management Plan Working Group
- Chair, Search Committee, Dean, College of Continuing Studies
- Search Committee, Director, Center for International Engagement

07/13-10/14

Bridgewater State University
Dean, College of Graduate Studies

As the primary advocate for graduate education, my responsibilities included fostering the growth of the College of Graduate Studies as an intellectual center, supporting faculty and student research, enhancing graduate student services, and establishing effective communication, outreach, marketing, and recruitment strategies. I provided leadership on the design, implementation and assessment of the college's numerous graduate and licensure programs, promoted academic excellence, established and maintained policies and procedures, developed strategic objectives, and represented the college to appropriate audiences.

Major highlights:

- Restructured the college to support a significant transformation of the entire graduate enterprise at BSU, enhancing transparency of all operations and decisions. This included a revision of college mission, vision, and values.
- Implemented a project-based approach to all work undertaken in the college and reset expectations for collaboration across campus.
- Established the Dean's Dialogue, a monthly discussion series on graduate education.
- Proposed and guided initial development of The Bridgewater State University Graduate Review: Journal of Graduate Research and Creative Scholarship (launched in 2016).
- Established a university-wide Working Group on Student Funding to examine and recommend changes to all aspects of the graduate student funding program.

- Transformed the entire graduate assistantship program by increasing stipends for research assistants and graduate writing fellows, creating flexible part-time assistantships, leveraging the budget to serve a greater number of students (students receiving funding grew from 43 to 70 in one year).
- Enhanced efforts around civic participation, global awareness, and social justice.
- Partnered with the Office of Undergraduate Research to host the first university-wide graduate student research symposium.
- Established a visiting junior scholar award for international graduate students conducting research at Bridgewater State University.
- In collaboration with Institutional Research and Student Affairs, developed and conducted first comprehensive graduate student experience survey in over a decade.
- Enhanced the role for the graduate dean on cyclical graduate program reviews and in the hiring of full-time and faculty affiliates.
- Launched annual graduate college theme, beginning with: Creating a Shared Vision of Excellence in Graduate Education.
- Enhanced communication with internal and external audiences through virtual office hours, social media, SharePoint, e-Newsletters, and other communication channels.
- Led reform of the Graduate Education Council (shared governance committee).
- Advanced articulation agreements with numerous local, regional, and international partners.

Leadership Roles:

- Provost's Council
- Dean's Council
- Academic Council
- Graduate Education Council
- Working Group on Academic Integrity Policy
- External Campus Committee
- University Data Stream Project
- Massachusetts Statewide Committee of Graduate and Continuing Education

07/10-06/13

Kennesaw State University (GA)

Large public metropolitan comprehensive institution (24,000 students in 2013)

Associate Dean, College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHSS)

Oversaw 10 graduate programs, 6 official centers, grants and contracts, research fellowships, and visiting international faculty. Served as the college liaison to the Development Office and between the Office of the Dean and the academic departments of the college. Participated in the Dean's tenure and promotion Review Committee for CHSS faculty. Heavy emphasis was placed on coordination and collaboration with Associate Deans, CHSS Department Chairs, Program Directors, Center Directors, faculty, and staff. In addition, I actively contributed to the education of undergraduate and graduate students in a variety of disciplines, including criminology, political science, and sociology.

Major highlights:

- Established Graduate Program Directors Council and Center Directors Council to enhance collaboration and coordination among various units.
- Established research networks (e.g., Law and Social Science Working Group, Migration Research Network) within the college to foster interdisciplinary connections, provide a forum for faculty and students to share their research, and to take advantage of grant opportunities that emerge.
- Led the CHSS Strategic Planning Process (2013-2018).

Large urban public institution (30,000 students in 2010)
Inaugural Chair, Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology
(Interim 08/06-06/07)

Major highlights:

- Led organizational transition from School of Criminal Justice to Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology in the Faculty of Arts.
- Implemented a new criminal justice BA program (program garnered the third largest applicant pool in the university and enjoyed excellent student retention and satisfaction rates).
- Developed and implemented an evening continuing education certificate program for non-traditional students.
- Worked with colleagues to build an interdisciplinary social science department from the ground up.

- Emphasized the delivery of high-quality instruction to students.
- Led tenure and promotion committees.
- Established cross-disciplinary and collaborative relationships with other departments and forged mutually beneficial relationships in the broader community.
- Revised curriculum to emphasize currency and greater course choice.
- Brought fiscal discipline to financial decision-making.
- Developed an academic plan in concert with the strategic goals of the Faculty of Arts and the larger university.
- Established two endowed diversity related scholarships.
- Attracted extremely talented candidates for faculty positions (the full-time complement grew from 4 to 10 in four years, featuring faculty members with backgrounds in criminology, sociology, social anthropology, law, and political science).
- Established Advisory Board to strengthen and enhance external relationships, including with the numerous public, private, and non-profit organizations that employ criminal justice and criminology graduates.

Leadership Roles (selected):

- Chair, Faculty Assessment and Tenure Review Committee
- Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee
- Chair, Faculty Promotion Sub-Committee
- Member, Workload Norms Committee

Mentoring, Graduate Supervision, and Teaching Initiatives

I have mentored numerous students, faculty members and academic leaders throughout my career. In addition, I have served either as lead supervisor, advisor, or reader on thesis committees in criminal justice and criminology (Radford University, St. John's University), in immigration and settlement studies (Toronto Metropolitan University) and in public policy and public administration studies (Toronto Metropolitan University).

I served as one of five members of an interdisciplinary design and teaching team that developed an introductory course in the social sciences. The course, which was launched in September 2007, is a requirement for all incoming students pursuing degrees in criminal justice, psychology, sociology, or political science at Toronto Metropolitan University (formerly Ryerson University). I have also been involved in a variety of teaching initiatives that focus on enhancing civility, diversity and just relationships in the classroom.

Research Interests

- Criminological theory
- The politics of criminal justice reform
- Crime and inequality
- Violence in society
- Comparative immigration policy
